It looks forward to the timely restoration of the normal constitutional order in a peaceful manner through a civilian-led transition.

"The Security Council reiterates its support for the efforts of the Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS) and the African Union. "The Security Council welcomes the Joint Declaration of Ouagadougou dated 15 January 2010, which, consistent with the proposals made on 6 January by the interim President General Sekouba Konate, provides in particular for the establishment of a National Unity Government led by a civilian Prime Minister designated by the opposition, the holding of elections within six months, the commitment that the Head of State of the transition, members of the "Conseil National pour la démocratie et le développement", the Prime Minister, members of the National Unity Government and the defense and security forces in active service will not stand in the forthcoming presidential elections.

"The Security Council welcomes further the appointment on 21 January 2010 of Mr Jean-Marie Doré as Prime Minister and the designation of a unity Government on 15 February 2010. It calls upon all Guinean stakeholders to implement the Joint Declaration of Ouagadougou in full, to engage actively into the transition towards the restoration of the normal constitutional order through the holding of elections within six months. It calls upon the international community to bring its support to the Guinean authorities led by interim President Sekouba Konate and Prime Minister Jean-Marie Doré, including with regard to comprehensive security and justice sectors reform, upon request from the Guinean authorities.

"The Security Council recalls that it strongly condemned the violence committed on the 28 September 2009 and its aftermath. It urges the national authorities to prevent any further violence, and uphold the rule of law, including promotion, protection and respect for human rights and due process and stresses their obligations towards the victims and witnesses. It emphasizes the responsibility of States to comply with their relevant obligations to end impunity.

“The Security Council commends the work of the International Commission of Inquiry established by the Secretary-General and supported by ECOWAS and the African Union (AU) to investigate the facts and circumstances of the events of 28 September 2009 in Guinea consistent with its mandate (S/2009/556). It takes note positively of the submission by the Commission of its report (S/2009/693).

“The Security Council takes note that the International Contact Group invited relevant international stakeholders, including ECOWAS, the AU and the Mediator to consider deploying, as soon as possible and in consultation with the Guinean authorities, a possible joint civil-military mission in Guinea with a view to discussing modalities for defence and security sector reform and contributing to security conditions for the electoral process. It encourages them to plan for such a possible mission.

“The Security Council reiterates the call it made in its resolution 1888 (2009) to increase the representation of women in mediation processes and decision-making processes with regard to conflict resolution and peacebuilding.

“The Security Council expresses its intention to remain seized of the situation and to react as appropriate to any threat or action against the transition. It requests the Secretary-General to continue to update it as appropriate on the situation on the ground, the potential implications for the sub-region, the fight against impunity, the efforts of ECOWAS and the African Union, and the actions of the Secretariat of the United Nations.”
