Working Group on Children and Armed Conflict

Conclusions on children and armed conflict in Uganda

1. At its 8th meeting, on 10 May 2007, the Working Group examined a report of the Secretary-General on children and armed conflict in Uganda, introduced by the Special Representative of the Secretary-General (S/2007/260). The Permanent Representative of Uganda participated in the subsequent discussion.
2. The main elements of the exchange of views among the members of the Working Group are summarized below.
3. The members of the Working Group welcomed the submission of the report of the Secretary-General in accordance with Security Council resolution 1612 (2005) and the recommendations therein.
4. They also welcomed the cooperation of the Government of Uganda with the Working Group, the Special Representative and the Uganda Task Force on Monitoring and Reporting, established pursuant to the same resolution.
5. Tribute was paid to Uganda for its participation in the conference entitled "Free Children from War", held in Paris on 5 and 6 February 2007, at which the participants committed themselves to make every effort to uphold and apply the Paris Principles wherever possible in their political, diplomatic, humanitarian, technical assistance and funding roles, consistent with their international obligations.
6. Some members reaffirmed that any child recruited and used by the Lord's Resistance Army (LRA) must be released immediately. While the importance of the Juba peace talks was noted, it was underlined that the release of children could not be made dependent on the conclusion of a peace agreement. Members of the Working Group stressed that progress in the peace process on the ground would contribute to the improvement of the situation of children. A strong message ought to be passed to the LRA leaders. A wish was expressed for close cooperation between the Secretary-General's Special Representative on children and armed conflict and his Special Envoy for LRA-affected areas.
7. Bearing in mind the 2005 Uganda People's Defence Forces Act, which prohibits the recruitment of children under the age of 18 years, concern was expressed that children are present among the local defence units, which are de facto under the responsibility of the Uganda People's Defence Forces.

8. The Permanent Representative of Uganda welcomed the work of the Special Representative, her visit in his country in June 2006 and the activity of the Uganda Task Force on Monitoring and Reporting. He referred to the 2005 Uganda People's Defence Forces Act prohibiting the recruitment of children under the age of 18 years and pointed to the fact that no recruitment in the armed forces was possible without the consent of local community chiefs. He acknowledged that poverty could have led parents to get their children "employed" in the armed forces by overstating their age. He stated that the conduct of independent on-site monitoring visits to military barracks should be considered with due respect for the sovereignty of Uganda. He declared that the Government of Uganda was committed to finalizing with the Uganda Task Force on Monitoring and Reporting a plan of action pursuant to resolution 1612 (2005). He promised the cooperation of his Government to work on the basis of the report of the Secretary-General on children and armed conflict in Uganda and expressed the wish that Uganda People's Defence Forces and local defence units not be mentioned in the annexes to the next annual report.

9. Members of the Working Group underlined that the case of children and armed conflict in Uganda was an "annex II" situation, considered by the Working Group on the basis of annex II to the report of the Secretary-General submitted pursuant to Security Council resolution 1612 (2005) (A/61/259-S/2006/826 and Corr.1) and that addressing it appropriately would enhance the work of the Working Group.

10. Further to the meeting and subject to and consistent with applicable international law and relevant Security Council resolutions, including resolution 1612 (2005), the Working Group agreed to the following.

Recommendations to the Security Council

(c) Requesting that the Special Envoy of the Secretary-General for the LRA-affected areas transmit to the head of the LRA delegation to the Juba peace talks the message of the Chairman of the Working Group, and encouraging the inclusion of specific provisions for children by the parties to the conflict at all steps of the negotiations, bearing in mind the importance of holding accountable the perpetrators of violations and abuses committed against children.
