Letter dated 17 August 2006 from the Secretary-General addressed to the President of the Security Council

During the African Union summit in Banjul, Gambia, on 2 July 2006, I had the opportunity to meet with President Omer al-Bashir of the Sudan. On that occasion, President al-Bashir informed me that his Government would be sending me a detailed plan for strengthening security and restoring stability in Darfur. I received the plan of the Government of the Sudan for the restoration of stability and protection of civilians in Darfur, on 8 August 2006, as I informed you in my letter of 10 August 2006 (S/2006/645). The plan is attached for your consideration (see annex).

I should be grateful if you would bring it to the attention of the members of the Security Council.

(Signed) Kofi A. Annan

Annex to the letter dated 17 August 2006 from the Secretary-General addressed to the President of the Security Council

[Original: Arabic]

I wish to refer to my meeting with you on 2 July 2006 on the occasion of the meetings of the African Summit in Banjul, which afforded a favourable opportunity for an exchange of views with you on the situation in Darfur. We greatly appreciate the concern that you expressed regarding the resolution of the dispute in Darfur and the improvement in the life of its population.

As you will recall, it was agreed during the meeting in Banjul that the Government of the Sudan would submit to you a comprehensive plan for strengthening security and restoring stability to the Darfur states and encompassing our views concerning the role that might be played by the United Nations in that connection.

While appreciating the major role that has been played and continues to be played by the African forces in Darfur, we wish to emphasize that the restoration of stability and the protection of civilians are central to the responsibilities of the Government of the Sudan, as affirmed by the resolutions of the United Nations and of the African Union concerning the situation in Darfur.

We also wish to convey our great appreciation of the important humanitarian role that continues to be played by the United Nations and its specialized agencies and other organizations in Darfur and of the valuable assistance provided by the United Nations to the African mission in the Sudan which has enabled it to perform its task as required.

I have the honour in that connection to transmit to you herewith the plan of the Government of the Sudan to restore stability and protect civilians in Darfur. It is a national plan that relies on the provisions of the Darfur peace accord signed on 5 May 2006 in accordance with the timetable contained therein. For our part, we shall work to complete the implementation of the plan by the end of this year with the cooperation of and in coordination with the parties to the Darfur peace accord and the mission of the African Union in Darfur. We also have every confidence that the United Nations will spare no effort to support this plan in such manner as we consider necessary so that the plan may achieve its objectives.

Our national plan comprises a number of priorities for returning life to normal in Darfur, among the most important of which, as specified above, are the aspects that address control over the security situation, the attainment of stability, the protection of civilians, and the strengthening of mechanisms and systems for the enforcement of the rule of law. The plan also gives special consideration to a number of quick-impact economic programmes that are indispensable to support the stability that will be achieved through other features of the plan.

Accept, Sir, the assurances of my highest consideration.

Omer Hassan Ahmad Al-Bashir
President of the Republic of the Sudan

To His Excellency Mr. Kofi Annan
Secretary-General of the United Nations
Khartoum, 2 August 2006

Plan of the Government of the Sudan for the restoration of stability and protection of civilians in Darfur

[Original: Arabic]

Introduction

The Government of the Sudan, as an expression of the great importance it attaches to implementing the provisions of the Darfur Peace Agreement signed in Abuja on 5 May 2006 as a comprehensive framework for resolving the conflict and as a reaffirmation of its commitment to and national responsibility for restoring stability and protecting its citizens in the Darfur states, has drafted a national plan aimed at restoring normal life in Darfur.

The detailed plan indicated below is based on the provisions of the Darfur Peace Agreement and the timetable established in it for the implementation of those provisions. It is also based on the Sudanese Government's understanding of the current situation in Darfur and its complicated security, social, humanitarian and economic aspects.

The Sudanese Government, which holds the greatest and most fundamental responsibility in this matter, will exert itself to complete the implementation of this plan by the end of the year in coordination and cooperation with the parties signatory to the Peace Agreement and the African Union, to which the Agreement accords a fundamental role in the implementation process.

The plan includes a number of priority components for the restoration of normal life in Darfur, one of the most important of which is the military/security component, whose aim is control over the security situation, the achievement of stability, the protection of civilians and the strengthening of the mechanisms and systems for enforcing the rule of law. The plan also devotes special attention to a number of quick-impact economic and humanitarian projects, viewed by the Government of the Sudan as indispensable for maintaining the stability that will result from other aspects of the plan.

The Government of the Sudan appreciates the important role of the United Nations, its specialized agencies and other organizations and partners in improving the situation in Darfur and feels fully confident that the United Nations and the other parties mentioned will spare no effort in providing support for the plan in the manner which the Government deems necessary in order for the plan to achieve its objectives within the established time frame.
